THE EAGLE

THE SENIOR CLASS OF

1959

PRESENTS

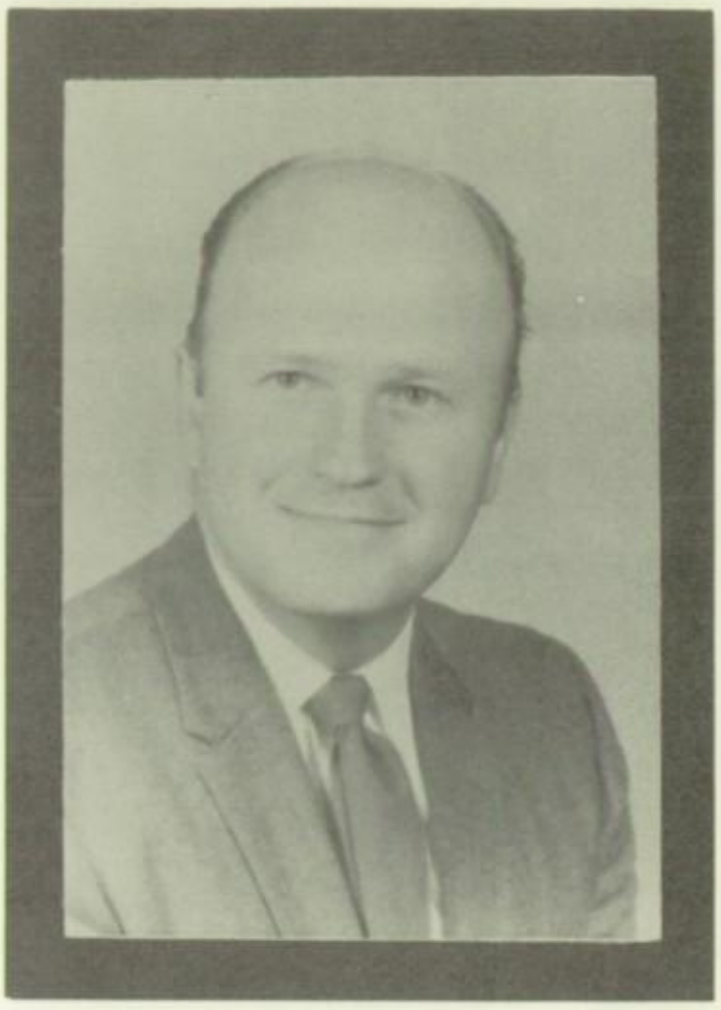
LIBERTY-BENTON SCHOOLS

DEDICATION

Mr. John Howard



Mr. Willis King

We, the members of the class of '59, wish to dedicate this Eagle to two men who have been great influences on our school lives, Mr. Howard and Mr. King.

As our class sponsor, Mr. Howard carefully and thoughtfully guided us through our final year at Liberty-Benton. He played a great part in making our Senior year a success.

Mr. King was very important to us this year, also. Through his government class he has helped prepare us for the future. Not only the things he taught us from the book, but also his personal ideals will come back to us in the years to come.

Although we can never fully repay these two men, we hope that this dedication may show, in a small way, our gratitude. And so, to you, Mr. Howard and Mr. King, we dedicate this annual.

IN MEMORIAM

This yearbook is in memory of Ronald Henry Loy. Bob was a member of our class until the fifth grade when he was accidentally killed on November 17, 1951. Bob had a pleasing disposition and was well liked by his teachers, classmates, and all others who knew him.

SUPERINTENDENT

MR. JOHN HOWARD

Mr. Howard has been our superintendent for two and a half years and has been with our school system nine years. He received his B. A. degree at Findlay College and his Master of Education degree at Bowling Green State University. Besides fulfilling his duties as superintendent, Mr. Howard also was senior class sponsor and taught the sophomore English class.

PRINCIPAL

MR. WILLIS KING

Mr. King, who has been principal two and a half years, has been with us seven years. He received his B. A. degree from Findlay College. Mr. King also coached the football team and taught senior government, seventh grade math, general business, and physical education.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

SEATED: Eugene Porter, John Orwick, Joe Harpst, Earl Cramner. STANDING: John Howard, Max Moorhead, Richard Bixel.

In the hands of these few men rests the responsibility of maintaining and directing our school system. Also they have had the increased burden of construction of our new addition. But the members of the school community look up to the school board and know that theirs will be a job well done.

The officers are as follows:

The Class of '59

CLASS HISTORY

The Liberty-Benton Class of '59 started their four years of high school in 1955, with their advisor Mr. Moore. At Freshman initiation, the Seniors officially made the class of '59 a part of Liberty-Benton High School. The Freshmen also enjoyed proving that they were worthy of the high school by taking active parts in athletics, chorus and band, and many other activities.

The class of '59 started their sophomore year with Mr. George as their sponsor, and they were very sorry when he was called into the army. But Mr. Alberti came and capably filled in for Mr. George. During the year the class collected tax stamps which were to be used to help finance their class trip. They also enjoyed decorating for the commencement exercises.

With Mrs. Gongwer as their advisor, the class of '59 eagerly began their junior year. Most of the year's activities were devoted to earning money for the class trip. They served dinners, sponsored a square dance and bake sale, handled the concessions at basketball games, and sold Christmas cards. Another project which made money but also produced much enjoyment was the class play, "Here Comes Charlie." Since there were so many "hams" in the class, the play was given on two different nights with two different casts. The directors were Mrs. Miller and Mr. King. On May 10, 1958, ending a wonderful year, they sponsored the Junior-Senior Banquet with the theme, "Stairway to the Stars."

When the senior year rolled around, the class of '59 entered it with great anxiety, but they also realized that this would be the last time they would be starting a school year together. Never the less they set about the many tasks which were waiting to be completed. It was necessary to earn additional money for the trip so they handled the football concessions, sponsored a square dance, served a dinner, and sold peanut brittle. All these things were carefully supervised by Mr. Howard, their sponsor. Again they put on a very successful class play. This time it was "Aunt Samanthy Rules the Roost," directed by Mr. Shull.

Of course, that final year had to come to an end. But it closed with many memorable events. The Juniors treated them royally at the Junior-Senior Banquet on May 8, and their last day of school, May 15, was spent in games with the Juniors. Then on Sunday afternoon, May 17, they had Baccalaureate and left that evening on their long awaited class trip to Washington D.C. and New York. With them went their chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. Howard. Finally, on Saturday, May 23, 1959, in the most beautiful of all commencement exercises, they graduated, thus putting the finishing touches on four wonderful years at Liberty-Benton High School.

CLASS WILL

We, the Senior Class of Liberty-Benton, being of questionable mind and sound body, do hereby will and bequeath the following unforgettable traits, supreme characteristics, and invaluable possessions:

ARTICLE I:

To the Junior Class, we will the first penny we ever earned.

ARTICLE II:

To the Sophomore Class, we will our outstanding athletic abilities and scholastic honors.

ARTICLE III:

To the Freshman Class, we will the joys and thrills of the next three years.

ARTICLE IV:

To Mr. Howard, our class sponsor, we humbly offer the relief which he will have when he realizes that we will not be back next year.

ARTICLE V:

In grateful remembrance, we leave to the custodian all ice cream and candy bar wrappers, wads of gum, and junk from our lockers to do with as he sees fit.

ARTICLE VI:

To Rita Loy, Margaret Parkins wills her ability to play wrong notes in band.

To Glen Seitz, June Kidd wills the oboe. You'll be sorry, Glen.

Marvin Kennedy wills his Oldsmobile to that great Olds lover, Dan Hankins.

To Phyllis Burner, Sara Radebaugh wills her position as accompanist.

To Janis Schimmoeller, Karen Dukes wills her tennis shoes for cheerleading. Keep them jumping, Janis.

Kay Misamore wills her ability to study government in consumer's class to anyone who thinks he can get away with it.

To Lorena Anderson, Brenda Allen wills her small stature.

To Lana Randolph, Colleen Garlinger wills her ability to pick hard dress patterns for home ec.

To Jackie Hemsted, Janet Powell wills her short hair. Trim it up, Jackie.

Paul Bash wills his vitality to Mary Riggs. Perk up, Mary!

To Jim Mitchell, Tom Heidlebaugh wills his ability to get C's and D's in speech class.

To Wayne Benson, John Williamson wills his ability to get away with anything in ag class.

To David Fisher, Paula Whitney wills her ability to argue with anyone, at anytime, about anything.

To Mr. Wareham, Roger Helms wills his slide rule instruction book.

Nellie Clymer wills all her old boy friends to anyone who wants them.

To Joanne Schumacker, Jayne Huffman wills her job as private secretary to Mr. King.

Then, Joanne, you will know why she doesn't like to sell pencils at noon.

Bill Hingson wills his curly hair to Mr. King. Watch the dandruff, Mr. King.

Lynnette Higley wills the shade of her red hair to her sister, Doris.

Judy King wills her ability to get purple carbon all over herself to anyone who is messy enough to do it.

To Dennis Lytle, Dohn Hoenicke wills his long wavy hair.

Ronnie Leatherman wills his football uniform to anyone who can fill it.

To John Coffman, Mike Foster wills his "slim" figure.

To Virginia Kuhlman, Nancy Gongwer wills her curiosity in science classes. Start asking questions, Virginia.

Everett McCarthy wills the old Henry-J. to his brother, Dan.

Dave and Bill Oldham will their ability to stay out of trouble to Ardyn Motter and Richard Shulaw.

Grace Halsey wills her pencil, pen, charge tablet and money box to the next cashier.

Sharon Vorpe wills her long fingernails to John Thompson. Careful who you scratch, John.

We hereby set our hand this twenty-third day of May, in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and fifty-nine, and declare this to be our last will and testament. In witness thereof we sign this document.

CLASS PROPHECY

My name is Deadeye Dick. I'm a private eye. While I was traveling through Findlay, Ohio, in 1979, looking for unsolved murders, I spent the night at the Fort Findlay Hotel. As I was checking out the next morning, the manager, Paul Bash, came up to me. He asked me to hunt up some of his old classmates from the Liberty-Benton class of '59. Since I had no other pressing assignments, I decided to take the job.

As I walked out of the front door of the hotel, I stumbled over a man sitting on the steps. He turned out to be Everett McCarthy, the world's richest hobo. He said that since he had nothing better to do, he would direct me to some of his classmates in Findlay. Our first stop was at the Ohio Oil Company. As we stepped inside the door, we were met by the pleasant receptionist, Karen Dukes. She said that many others from the class of '59 worked in this same office. Sure enough, we found Mike Foster, engineer, explaining some blueprints to his secretary, Sharon Vorpe. On the next floor we found Brenda Allen and Margaret Parkins busily typing letters for the president of the company.

Our next stop was the Blanchard Valley Hospital. There, head nurse Judy King, showed us through the building. We stopped in the laboratory where the medical technologist, Paula Whitney, was making a blood test. Next, we peeked in the operating room where head surgical nurse, Judy Zoll, was assisting with an operation. Our last stop was in the kitchen where Grace Halsey, dietician, was preparing the patients' menu. Across the street we saw Nancy Gongwer's Horse Hospital.

Since it was about noon, we decided to eat lunch at Wilson's Hamburger Shop. We had delicious hamburgers prepared by the head cook, Nellie Clymer. While we were there, Kay Misamore, a social worker, brought in a group of children from the orphanage for a treat.

After lunch we journeyed out to the airport for a weather report from the meteorologist, Roger Helms. While we were there, we saw a jet airliner take off. The pretty stewardess, Janet Powell, told us that the plane was bound for New York with none other than the popular singer, Dohn Hoenicke, aboard. After leaving the airport, we stopped to get some gas at Bill Hingson's service station. He told us that many from the class of '59 had gone back to roost at Liberty-Benton. So we made that our next stop. As we drove into the parking lot, Sara Radebaugh was blowing the whistle to call her fourth graders in from recess. Inside we met Ronald Leatherman on his way to teach his biology class. He was in a hurry, but he found time to brag about his football team. Downstairs in the music room, we found June Kidd teaching the scales to some of her pupils. Across the hall Tom Heidlebaugh's gym class was playing a fast game of basketball. We found one other member of the class of '59 at the school, the ag teacher, Barton Bunn. We were unable to talk to him however, since he was in conference with the county agent, John Williamson and three of the county's most prosperous farmers, David Manges, Eddie Fisher, and Cloyd Williamson.

June Kidd had told us that Colleen Garlinger and Lynette Higley owned a beauty shop in town. So we decided to look them up. At their shop we found Jill Morehart and Mary Heidlebaugh, who said that they were getting their hair done for a party at Mrs. Daniels', the former Jayne Huffman.

It took some traveling to track down the rest of the class, but I finally found Marvin Kennedy writing a cynics' column for a Chicago newspaper. I found that Jim Williams was admiral on a destroyer in the Pacific and that Paul Seitz, a comedian with the USO, was entertaining on his ship. The hardest to find were the Oldham brothers. I finally found Dave deep in the Gobi Desert hunting fossils. He told me that Bill was hunting for gold in Alaska.

After I had tracked down all of the members of the class of '59, I made my report to Mr. Bash. He said that he was pleased to know that all of his classmates were well and successful. And so, having completed another assignment, I went on my way again, looking for unsolved crimes.

The National Honor Society is composed of Juniors and Seniors who have an average of B or higher in their high school work. Besides Scholarship the student must also have qualities of Service, Leadership, and Charactér.

CHARACTER. The pupil's language must be proper and he must have good characteristics such as honesty, truthfulness, courtesy, self-control, and a good reputation. The pupil should be a church member and exercise good sportsmanship.

SCHOLARSHIP. A pupil, to be eligible for membership in this organization, must have a point average of three or an average of B in his academic subjects throughout high school.

SERVICE. The pupil must have participated in sports, be a member of some school activity, such as band, do volunteer services about school without expecting reward, and participate in scholastic contests and extra-curricular activities in school and in the community.

LEADERSHIP. The pupil should have shown his leadership ability as an officer of his class, leader in athletics, band, chorus, or committees.

This is one of the highest rewards you can receive in school. We wish that every student would work toward this goal and thus raise the standards of the school.

JUNIOR-SENIOR DAY

Something new was started this year. On May 15, during the afternoon of the senior's last day, many athletic events were held between the juniors and seniors, supervised by some of the faculty members.

Among the events were softball games, broad jumping for the boys, volleyball games, a three-legged race, 50 and 100 yard dashes, and ball throwing contests.

The seniors were victorious. For their efforts they received a silver loving cup, which will be passed down to each year's winner.

The event was considered a huge success by all who participated.

We all hope that this will be a lasting tradition.

MUSIC

SNAPS

The year 1958-59 was very successful for the music department at our school. The Band got off to its usual fast start last fall, doing seven different band shows during the football season. The shows ranged from Lawrence Welk's bubble machine to a precision drill show.

The first appearance the Mixed Chorus made was at Christmas time when they went caroling and sang for P.T.A. Then in January, during preparation for state contests, they joined the Band to present a tune-up concert for the P.T.A.

March 25 found the Band and all three Choruses traveling to Ohio Northern University for the District Contest. The Girls' Chorus and Mixed Chorus won excellent ratings and the Band and Boys' Chorus won superior ratings. Superior is the highest rating possible, and excellent is the next highest.

Having received superiors at the District Contest, the Band and Boys' Chorus were eligible to compete in the State Contest at Mansfield. Both groups did a wonderful job at this final contest. The Band received an excellent rating and the Boys' Chorus won another Superior!

The next performance was the Spring Concert at which the Band played and the Boys' and Mixed Chorus sang. This program was taped, and used for a radio broadcast of the Band and souvenir records of the whole concert.

The Mixed Chorus was the last of the Music Department to perform this year. They finished their successful year by singing "The Lord's Prayer" and "America Our Heritage" for Commencement.

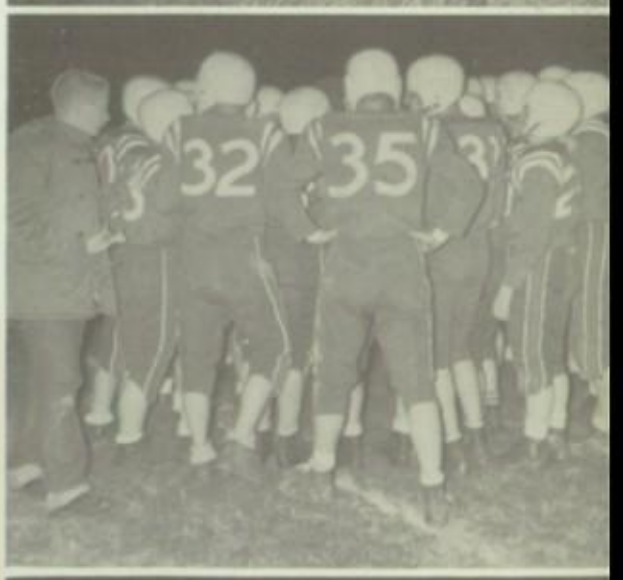
HOME-COMING

Queen Judy King reigned over our Homecoming Festivities on October 3, 1958. Her escort was Dohn Hoenicke. The queen's senior attendant was Nancy Gongwer, who was escorted by Paul Bash. Dale Grose escorted Diane Ernest, the junior attendant. Janis Schimmoeller, sophomore attendant, was escorted by Dennis Lytle. Sandy LaRoche, escorted by Tom Hingson, was freshman attendant.

Pre-game activities saw Miss King crowned by co-captains of our football team, Ronnie Leatherman and Dohn Hoenicke. The band formed a heart for this ceremony and played "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

A dinner sponsored by the senior class and the student council was served before the game played with McComb. The junior class sponsored a square dance after the game.



FOOTBALL SQUAD

The 1958 football record was not too impressive. We started out this season with twelve freshmen. We are counting on next year's freshmen to give strength to our squad. In the next two years we are expecting to have an improved team. We will be losing six seniors, all of whom were starters.

Lack of experience and injuries caused our greatest hardships. This season ended with a squad of twenty-seven players and we are hoping for a group of forty next year. We are hoping to have a junior high team started before long. This team will enable the boys to get experience and other essential things before playing high school ball. In order to play football right, the player has to have these qualities: "desire" and ability.

Liberty-Benton's basketball team proved they could keep the title of champs by winning the 1958-59 Hancock County League Co-championship.

Even hampered by injuries, these boys showed what a great team they were by winning their share of the county championship, a double over time affair, in the final game of the season.

The varsity squad closed the season with a 14-win-3-loss record. The three losses were by a total of 11 points. This win-loss record is the school's best in the last thirty-one years.

The team scored a grand total of 1074 points and gave up only 854 points. This gave the varsity a terrific 63.2 points per game average offensively, and a remarkable 50.2 points per game defensive average. This offensive average is the best in the school's entire history and sets a new school record. Also our defensive mark is the best in the last ten years.

Liberty-Benton finished another very successful season by placing three men, the county's only three unanimous choices, on the Hancock County All-County First Team.

TOM HEIDLEBAUGH

Tom, playing his fourth year of varsity ball, was one of our main defensive players. This year made his first year on the all county team.

EDDIE FISHER

Eddie was of great help to the team with hard work all through the season. This made his second year of varsity ball.

DAVID OLDHAM

David was one of our high point men who has played varsity ball for three years. This year made his second year on the all county team.

BILL OLDHAM

Bill was one of our other high pointers during the season. He has played three years of varsity ball and was on the all county team two years.

BARTON BUNN

Barton was always willing to get in there and do a good job. This year made his second year of varsity ball.

DOHN HOENICKE

Dohn was very energetic in basketball and played a hard game. This year made his second year of varsity ball.

RESERVES

ROW I: L. Kisseberth, W. Benson, T. Cramer, G. Kisseberth, D. McCarthy.
ROW II: J. Coffman, T. Cramer, K. Cramer, R. Karhoff, M. Weising, D. Grose.

The Reserve Team was composed of six juniors, six sophomores, and one freshman. Their overall record was 10 wins and 6 losses. Considering the height advantage that most teams had, this is a very commendable record.

Top scorers for the reserve team were as follows: Larry Kisseberth, 98; David Fisher, 80; Tom Lytle, 68; Gary Kisseberth, 65; and Dan McCarthy, 65.

The best game of the season was a 55-15 win over Hoytville. Our team allowed Hoytville only one field goal in the entire game.

JR. HIGH BASKETBALL

KNEELING: P. Van Gundy, J. Bracy, B. Heidlebaugh, R. Wittenmeyer, L. Wolford, D. Powell, D. Cramer, J. Thompson. ROW II: D. Schumacher, E. Smaltz, E. Smaltz, B. Burner, C. Kisseberth, J. Wittenmeyer, H. Kennedy, G. Rose, D. Leatherman, T. Brown, B. Kisseberth, Coach Shull.

Every year, any Junior High basketball team is bothered by nerves, inexperience, over-eagerness and a certain lack of skill. This year Liberty-Benton's Junior High team was no exception. The boys worked and trained hard, and by mid-season had rounded into a squad of ball players. By the end of the season their defense was the toughest to break of all the teams of the county. They showed this in several games and drew commendations from the opposing coaches.

By tournament time they really began to show their potential. Their ball-handling, speed and number of interceptions was exceptional. Even though they lost the semi-final game in the tournament, they had shown great ability and promise for the future, and finished the season with a 10-3 record.

As a post-script, the seventh and eighth grade boys played a game apiece during the tournaments and completely swamped the opposition.

Next year, here we come!

TWELVE YEARS TOGETHER

The people in this picture have spent 12 years in the Liberty-Benton school system. Those in the first row began their schooling at Benton. Those in the back started at Liberty. These people have enjoyed many experiences together and these experiences have been enriched by those who joined our class in later years.
